

HUMANPOINT CUSTOM LEADERSHIP 360s

HumanPoint's team can help you design and deploy a custom 360 assessment that measures what matters most.

SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Survey design
- Report design to reflect client's branding
- Core competency frameworks
- Survey administration
- Coaching sessions available to deliver individual results to each participant
- Custom development plans based on 360 feedback

HumanPoint's skilled team in the field of Industrial Organizational Psychology has the expertise to help build a program unique to your wants and needs.

To schedule a working session to discuss your upcoming project, please email us at info@human-point.com.

Here are a few recent projects where we provided our expertise:

- Strategic leadership assessment with an Executive Team to give insight into how their leadership is being perceived and the cultural tone they are setting across the organization
- Gauging efficacy of internal leadership development programs by providing a pre-assessment and post-assessment with a comparison of results
- Gathering annual feedback for managers to help them identify and set a learning goals as part of the annual review process
- Aggregating survey data across a team by competency to target priorities for learning and development
- Providing a business function executive with a geographically dispersed team insight into how each global leader is being perceived in their local markets
- Rating each employee across the world on how they are living the company values