

■ Amy Hedin
CEO / Executive Coach
amy@human-point.com
206.905.6052 PHONE
206.930.5900 CELL

Amy Hedin is the founder and CEO of HumanPoint. She founded HumanPoint in 2007 with a vision of helping each person and organization achieve their highest potential. With over a decade of experience as an executive coach and leading her own executive coaching firm, she is a sought-after advisor to leaders of prominent organizations as they work to navigate culture, leadership, and organizational change initiatives.

Amy is an engaging facilitator and public speaker. Amy is an engaging facilitator and public speaker with 15 years of public speaking experience. Whether she's encouraging women in STEM to own their seat at the table, or inspiring engineers to present their technical content more effectively, Amy has the gift of connection. From the moment she begins speaking, the audience can sense that this is a leader who truly lives out and believes in what she teaches. Her speaking engagements have covered many topics, including:

- The HumanPoint: The Emotional Intelligence Side of Business
- Creating Cultures of Trust and High Performance
- The Boldness Factor: Going After What You Want
- Women in Leadership: Owning Your Career
- Resilience: Converting Struggles into Success
- Authentic Leadership

Her expert content comes from years of experience and keen insight, delivered with her self-deprecating sense of humor. Audience members leave her talks feeling connected, inspired, and full of new insights about their own work. Amy customizes each talk in order to be relevant and connected to her audience.